

THE BOYENGA TEAM

A T C O M P A S S

Graeham Watts, REALTOR

PRE-LISTING RENOVATION ANALYSIS

2015 Ticonderoga Dr, San Mateo, CA 94402

Prepared September 2026. Selling as-is, after a light pre-sale refresh, or after a heavier renovation: what each is worth, what each costs, and how long each takes, built on 31 San Mateo Highlands sales from the last twelve months.

DRE #01466876. 650-308-4727. graehamwatts.com

SUBJECT PROPERTY

1,650 sq ft

3 BED / 2 BATH EICHLER,
BUILT 1958

Owned since 1980

LAST RECORDED TRANSFER
11/21/1980. NEVER LISTED
IN MLS

$2.10M to
$2.30M

AS-IS VALUE

$2.30M to
$2.50M

AFTER A LIGHT REFRESH

$2.50M to
$2.70M

HEAVIER RENOVATION
(CONTEXT ONLY)

ADDRESS / APN	2015 Ticonderoga Dr, San Mateo, CA 94402. APN 041-151-050. Cul-de-sac. San Mateo Highlands (unincorporated San Mateo County), MLS Area 433.
CONFIGURATION	3 bedrooms, 2 full baths, 1,650 sq ft, single story on a slab, built 1958. Attached 2-car garage (450 sq ft). Plus a newer detached studio in the back yard with power, no bathroom.
CONDITION	Largely original. Classic Eichler tongue-and-groove ceilings, exposed beams and original wood paneling (two bedrooms already painted), wood-look laminate floors throughout, Formica kitchen counters, two dated baths, hall laundry. Radiant floor heat is treated here as not working. Roof treated as in good condition. The sewer lateral was already replaced several years ago. Vacant.
LOT	12,638 sq ft (about 100 × 136), 0.29 acres. Mature front courtyard landscaping and covered rear patio. The back of the lot is bare dirt with debris to haul off.
ZONING / SCHOOLS	R1 single family. San Mateo-Foster City School District (Highlands Elementary, Borel Middle) and San Mateo Union High School District (Aragon High).
LAST SALE	One recorded transfer, 11/21/1980. No MLS listing history. Long-held ownership, now a trust sale.

Why this analysis exists. You're deciding whether to sell this house as it is, put a modest amount into it first, or take on a heavier renovation. Each of those puts it in a different tier of the Highlands market, and buyers here pay very differently for each tier. Below is what each path is worth today, what it costs, how long it takes, and what it leaves in your pocket, measured against the 31 single-family sales that closed in the Highlands between October 2025 and September 2026.

THE MARKET STORY

Thirty-one single-family homes closed in the San Mateo Highlands in the last twelve months, from $2,300,000 for a dated Eichler to $4,387,500 for a 2022 new build. Today exactly one house is for sale in the whole neighborhood.

Among Eichlers close to your size, price follows condition almost entirely. The dated homes, sold largely the way long-time owners left them, closed between $2,300,000 and $2,620,000. Updated homes, with newer kitchens, baths or systems, went for $2,620,000 to $2,930,000, and full remodels for $2,860,000 to $3,250,000. They sit on the same streets and feed the same schools. What separates them is the work done inside.

Your home sits in the dated group today: original paneling, laminate floors, Formica counters, two dated baths, and no heat you can count on. What sets it apart is the land and the extras. At 12,638 square feet on a cul-de-sac, it has one of the biggest lots of any Eichler in this report, the sewer lateral is already done, and the new studio out back gives a buyer the office or art studio that the neighbors don't have.

Buyers here are still competing. Of the 29 sales that had real time on the market, 79% closed over their original asking price, at a median of 109.4% of list, in a median of 9 days. The headwind is rates. The 30-year fixed crossed 7% this week for the first time since January 2025, a week after the Fed raised rates for the first time since 2023. Every sale in this report went into contract before that jump, so the ranges below sit roughly 10 to 14 percent under what each tier's sales brought this year, on purpose. They're set for this fall's buyers.

VERIFIED COMPARABLE SALES, BY CONDITION TIER

Every sale below closed in the last twelve months in MLS Area 433, The Highlands / Ticonderoga, and its contract and closing dates come straight from its own MLS record. The value math uses the 18 Eichlers between 1,490 and 1,945 square feet, sorted by what had been done to them.

TIER 1: DATED / AS-IS

Original or long-held condition. Fresh paint and carpet at most. Median $2,437,500, median $1,385/sq ft, median 102.1% of original list.

ADDRESS	SOLD	$/SQFT	SQFT	LOT	CONTRACT / COE	SALE VS ORIG LIST	DOM	NOTES
2015 Ticonderoga Dr (you)	n/a	n/a	1,650	12,638	n/a	n/a	n/a	Original wood paneling, laminate floors, Formica counters, two dated baths, radiant heat treated as not working. Cul-de-sac. New studio in back, sewer lateral already replaced
1582 Brandywine Road	$2,300,000	$1,264	1,820	9,550	12/10/2025 / 12/31/2025	100.0%	12	Original owner. Atrium model on a big corner lot. Updated baths, new carpet
35 French Creek Place	$2,300,000	$1,259	1,827	10,689	11/29/2025 / 12/19/2025	95.8%	21	Trust sale, sold as-is with limited disclosures. Formica counters, carpet and tile, radiant heat. Fresh paint, new carpet and hardscape. 10,689 sq ft cul-de-sac lot, detached 4-car garage
1571 Forge Road	$2,350,000	$1,567	1,500	9,307	06/02/2026 / 06/12/2026	106.8%	0	Described as recently updated, but with Formica counters, carpet, laminate and vinyl floors and a tar and gravel roof. Plus about 300 sq ft bonus room. Sold the day it was entered (off-market)
2055 Ticonderoga Drive	$2,425,000	$1,283	1,890	9,600	09/17/2025 / 10/20/2025	105.5%	7	Courtyard model on your street, 9,600 sq ft lot. Some updates (quartz in the kitchen), tar and gravel roof, radiant heat

ADDRESS	SOLD	$/SQFT	SQFT	LOT	CONTRACT / COE	SALE VS ORIG LIST	DOM	NOTES
1708 Monticello Road	$2,450,000	$1,410	1,737	7,778	08/19/2026 / 09/04/2026	102.1%	5	Original wood paneling kept. New paint and carpet, updated sliders and dual-pane windows
1703 Lexington Avenue	$2,500,000	$1,623	1,540	7,609	07/06/2026 / 07/27/2026	100.2%	5	Successor trustee sale. Tile counters, laminate, tile and carpet floors. Well kept, gas forced-air heat
2203 Allegheny Way	$2,500,000	$1,359	1,840	8,156	06/20/2026 / 07/08/2026	102.0%	23	Long-held former model home. Stainless appliances, carpet and tile, tar and gravel roof, radiant heat
1712 Lexington Avenue	$2,620,000	$1,514	1,730	7,340	01/05/2026 / 02/02/2026	113.9%	9	Trust sale, sold as-is. New paint inside and out plus new flooring. Galley kitchen. Also has a 601 sq ft enclosed patio room

TIER 2: UPDATED

Kitchen, baths or systems updated, no gut remodel. Median $2,725,000, median $1,599/sq ft, median 110.1% of original list.

ADDRESS	SOLD	$/SQFT	SQFT	LOT	CONTRACT / COE	SALE VS ORIG LIST	DOM	NOTES
1936 Ticonderoga Drive	$2,620,000	$1,758	1,490	7,700	04/09/2026 / 04/29/2026	116.5%	6	Updated kitchen with a quartz island and updated baths. Smaller than you at 1,490 sq ft
2068 New Brunswick Drive	$2,690,000	$1,620	1,660	8,250	10/09/2025 / 10/09/2025	103.5%	0	Walls drywalled, polished concrete floors, dual-pane glass. Preemptive offer, sold without going on market
2236 Bunker Hill Drive	$2,700,000	$1,408	1,918	8,385	06/04/2026 / 07/06/2026	100.1%	21	Remodeled, new sliders, granite kitchen, spa-style primary bath
2044 Lexington Avenue	$2,750,000	$1,661	1,656	7,590	05/14/2026 / 06/14/2026	110.1%	13	Mini-split heating and cooling, dual-pane windows, newer foam roof, solar. Nearly your size
2096 Ticonderoga Drive	$2,750,000	$1,414	1,945	8,250	01/14/2026 / 01/23/2026	110.1%	9	Remodeled Eichler on your street: granite, red and white gloss cabinets. 5 bed / 3 bath
2219 Allegheny Way	$2,930,000	$1,577	1,858	9,866	11/11/2025 / 12/02/2025	112.7%	10	Former Eichler Home Tour showcase with a family room addition and outdoor kitchen

TIER 3: FULL REMODEL (CONTEXT ONLY, NOT THE RECOMMENDED PLAN)

Renovated top to bottom. Median $3,010,000, median $1,763/sq ft, median 112.6% of original list.

ADDRESS	SOLD	$/SQFT	SQFT	LOT	CONTRACT / COE	SALE VS ORIG LIST	DOM	NOTES
2275 Allegheny Way	$2,860,000	$1,713	1,670	8,025	12/19/2025 / 01/13/2026	114.5%	7	Remodeled with a new chef's kitchen (quartzite) and new appliances. Nearly your size
2272 Bunker Hill Drive	$2,920,000	$1,708	1,710	11,960	09/25/2025 / 10/15/2025	108.6%	8	Fully transformed. Porcelanosa kitchen and baths, individual room heating and cooling, solar with Powerwall. 11,960 sq ft lot
1907 Ticonderoga Drive	$3,100,000	$1,813	1,710	12,703	02/25/2026 / 03/06/2026	110.8%	16	Fully remodeled on your street, 12,703 sq ft lot, almost your lot size. New kitchen (Thermador), new baths, new stucco and hardscape
1739 Lexington Avenue	$3,250,000	$1,842	1,764	7,774	08/13/2026 / 08/27/2026	120.4%	6	Renovated top to bottom: all-new windows, custom kitchen, Thermador, quartzite

What this actually says. Condition sets the price here, not size. Inside the dated tier, square footage explains almost none of the difference in price (r^2 0.01): a 1,540 sq ft home and an 1,840 sq ft home both sold for $2,500,000. The tier medians are $2,437,500 dated, $2,725,000 updated and $3,010,000 remodeled. Each step up is worth about the same: roughly $290,000 from dated to updated, and $285,000 more from updated to fully remodeled. The cost is what's different. The first step takes a refresh. The second takes a remodel that costs many times as much. Condition also changes how hard buyers compete: dated homes sold at a median 102% of their original list price, updated homes at 110%.

Two trust sales from this year. 35 French Creek Place, sold as-is with limited disclosures, listed at $2,400,000, sat 21 days and sold for $2,300,000. 1712 Lexington Avenue, also a trust sale, got fresh paint and new flooring, listed at $2,300,000 and sold for $2,620,000 in 9 days. The homes aren't identical (French Creek has the bigger lot, Lexington has a 601 sq ft enclosed patio room), but they're the clearest example this year of the two choices in front of you: what to fix first, and where to set the price.

Also closed in the Highlands this year and left out of the value math as a different product or size: 2184 Cobblehill Place (2022 new construction, 3,431 sq ft); 40 Roxbury Lane (expanded to 2,450 sq ft); 8 Bennington Court (1976 Whitecliff home, 2,610 sq ft with pool); 1719 Monticello Road (expanded to 2,020 sq ft); 40 Powhatan Place (expanded to 2,160 sq ft); 2052 Lexington Avenue (sold on unobstructed mountain views); 2027 New Brunswick Drive (sold on panoramic Bay views); 1764 Lexington Avenue (2,105 sq ft); 10 Laurel Hill Court (expanded to 2,032 sq ft); 2060 Bunker Hill Drive (1994 custom, 3,400 sq ft); 1879 Lexington Avenue (expanded to 2,460 sq ft, 6 bed); 1708 Yorktown Road (renovated, not marketed as an Eichler); 1276 Laurel Hill Drive (California ranch, not an Eichler). They do count in the pricing-behavior section below, which is about how homes here price and sell rather than dollars per square foot.

CURRENT COMPETITION

There is one single-family home for sale in the entire Highlands right now: the X-100 at 1586 Lexington Avenue, the 1956 steel-and-glass Eichler prototype on the National Register, at $4,498,000. Our team is marketing it, and it's a one-of-a-kind collector's property, not a comparison for yours.

Citywide, the only other Eichler on the market in San Mateo is 1648 Wolfe Drive, a 1,400 sq ft home on a 5,250 sq ft lot in a different part of town, already pending after 12 days at $1,998,800.

Across all of 94402, single-family supply ran 0.3 months of inventory in July and 0.9 in August, a fraction of the three months that marks a balanced market. A buyer who wants a Highlands Eichler this fall has almost nothing to choose from. That works in your favor on any of the three paths.

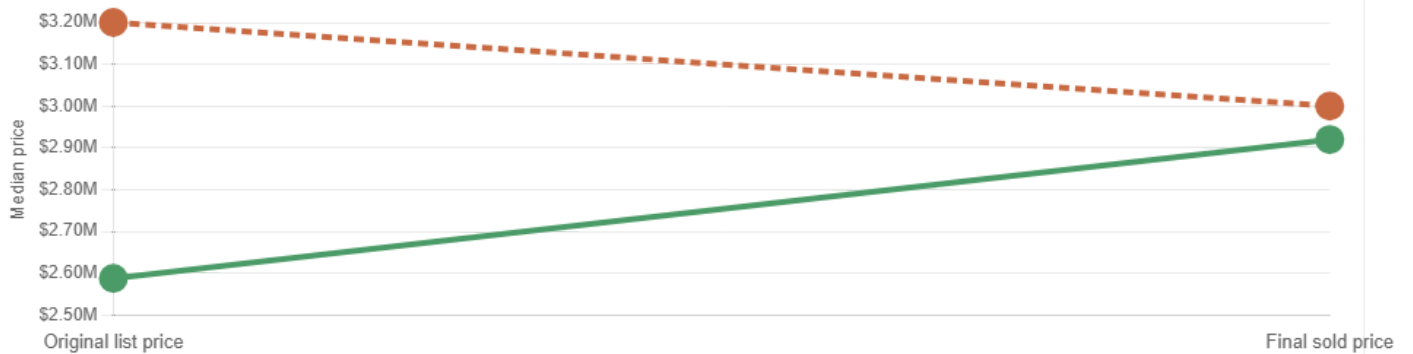

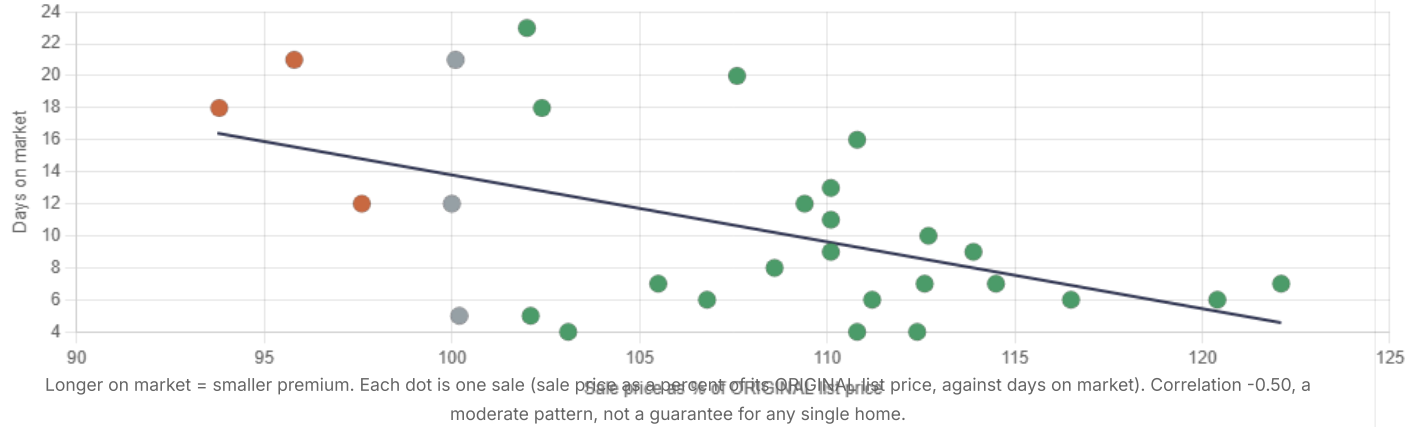

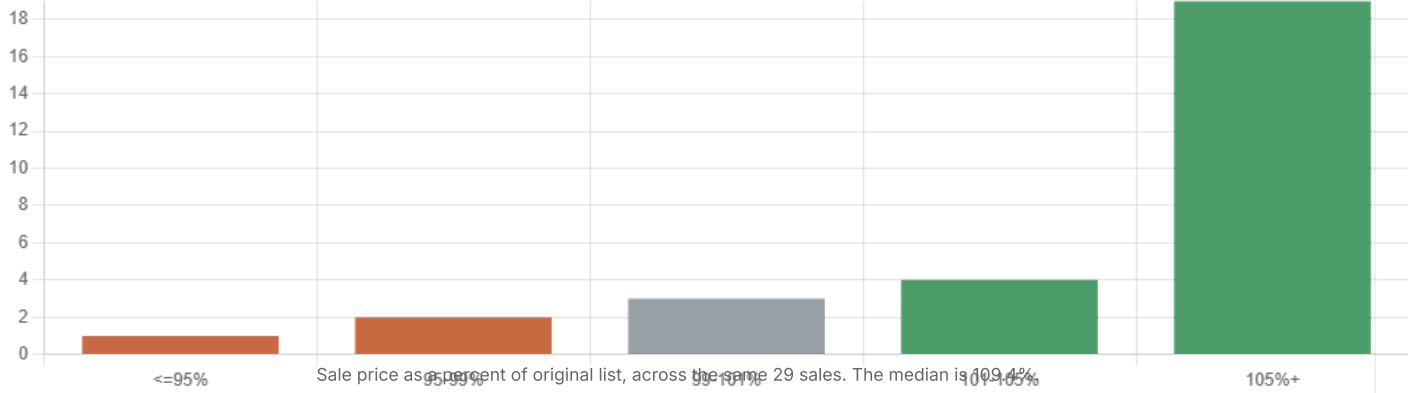

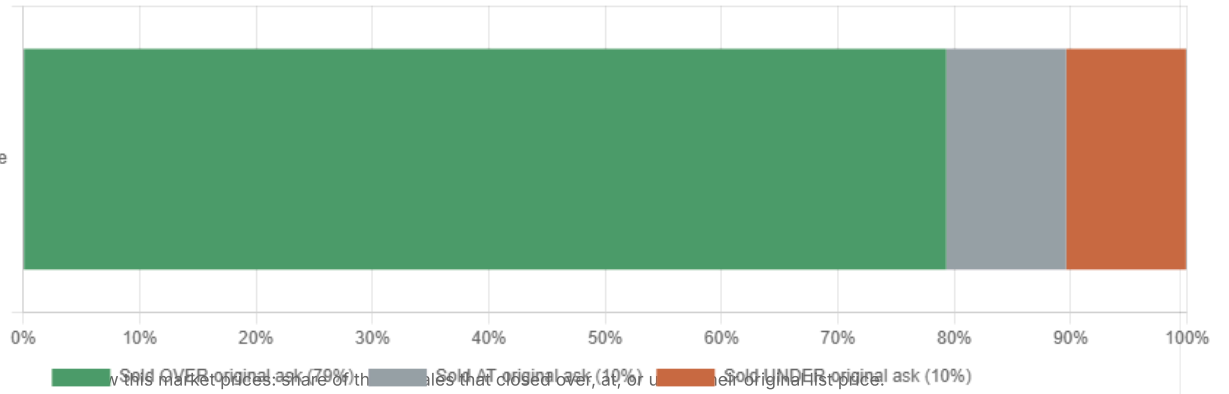

MARKET PRICING BEHAVIOR AND THE DAYS-ON-MARKET CORRELATION

Here's how Highlands sellers priced this year, and what it got them. The numbers come from the original list price, sale price and days on market of the 29 Highlands single-family sales that had real time on the market (two same-day, comp-only entries are left out).

79% of Highlands homes sold over their original asking price

The median home closed at 109.4% of its original list price, in 9 days

Original list vs. sold price

What each group actually got. The 23 homes that priced to sell went from a median list of $2,588,000 to a median sale of $2,920,000 in 7 days. The 3 that sold under ask went from $3,200,000 down to $3,000,000 and took 18 days.

APPROACH	# OF SALES	MEDIAN ORIG LIST	MEDIAN SOLD	MEDIAN SALE VS LIST	MEDIAN DOM
Priced to sell (sold over original ask)	23	$2,588,000	$2,920,000	110.1%	7 days
Priced at market (within 1%)	3	$2,495,000	$2,500,000	100.1%	12 days
Overpriced (sold under original ask)	3	$3,200,000	$3,000,000	95.8%	18 days

READING THE NUMBERS

Of the 29 Highlands single-family homes that sold with real market time in the last twelve months:

- 23 homes (79%) priced to sell and sold over their original ask, a median of $2,920,000 (about 10% over asking), in a median of just 7 days.
- 3 homes (10%) sold right at asking, in a median of 12 days.
- 3 homes (10%) sold under their original ask. They started highest, a median list of $3,200,000, sold for a median of $3,000,000 (about 4% under), and took 18 days, more than twice as long.
- Only one home in the whole year cut its price before selling: 2060 Bunker Hill Drive, a 1994 custom.

The difference is direction. The homes that priced to sell gained a median of $302,000 between list and sale. The three that listed above their tier lost a median of $107,500.

Why is the market pricing this way? Highlands buyers are chasing very few homes, so a list price at or a little under what the comps support pulls in a crowd and gets bid up, usually within a week or two. The three homes that sold under ask were the two most unusual in the neighborhood (a 2022 new build listed at $4,495,000 and a 1994 custom) plus one as-is trust sale, 35 French Creek Place, that listed above where its condition tier trades. Nothing in the last year rewarded pricing high and waiting.

What this all means. Price to the tier your home is actually in on listing day. As-is, that means pricing against French Creek, Brandywine and Forge, not against the refreshed homes. After a refresh, it means listing under the updated-tier sales and letting the competition carry it into range.

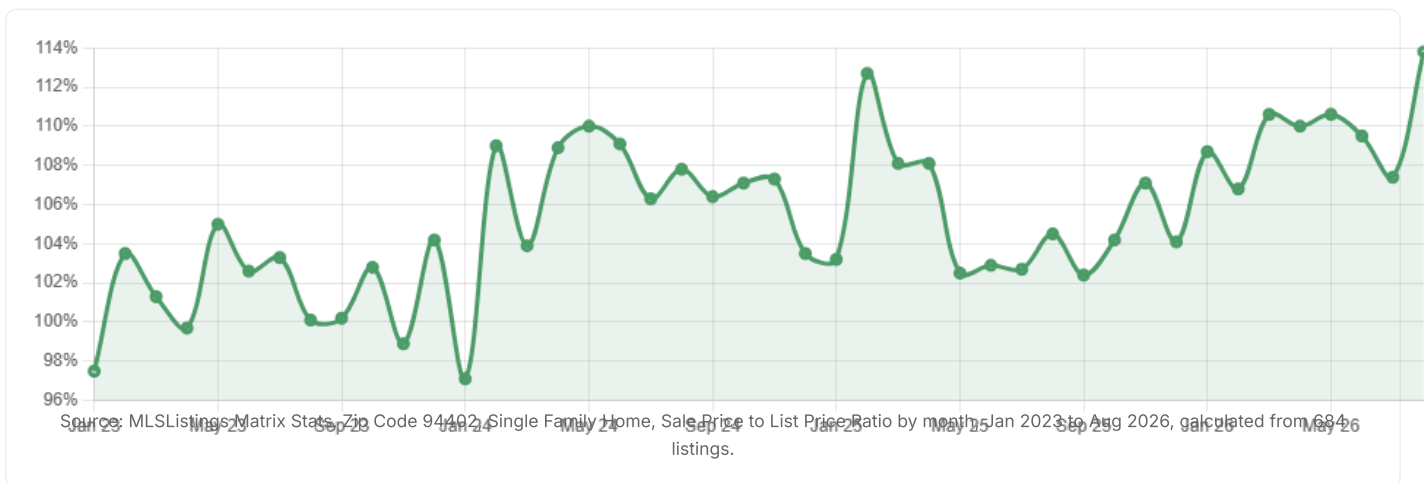

Sample: 29 Highlands (MLS Area 433) single-family sales that closed between October 2025 and September 2026 with at least one day on market. Original list price taken from each listing's MLS record. A directional read, not a guarantee for any single home.

MARKET DATA AND TRENDS

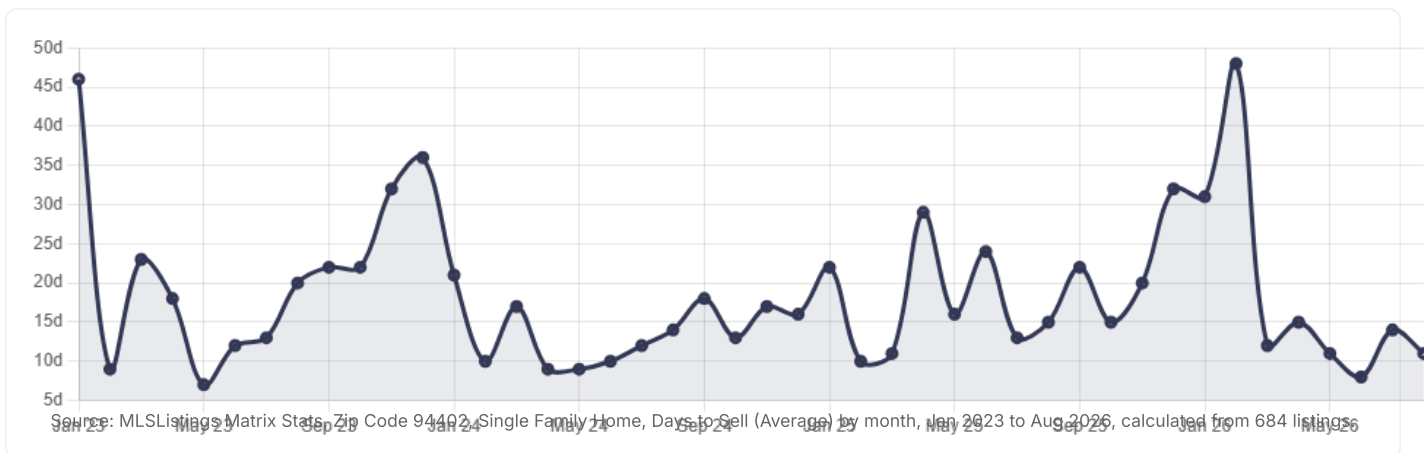

These three charts are built from the monthly figures in MLSEListings Matrix's own Stats module (Data tab) for single-family homes in zip 94402. That zip mixes the Highlands with larger homes in Baywood and Aragon, so the averages run higher than the Eichler comps above, but the direction is what matters here.

The monthly average bounces around because only about 15 homes sell in a typical month, but 2026 has run higher: the monthly figures average about $2.97M so far this year, against about $2.82M in 2025 and $2.58M in 2023.

Every month of 2026 has closed above 106% of list in this zip, and August was the strongest month in the three-year window at 113.8%.

From March through August, the average home sold in 8 to 15 days. These figures run through August, so they don't yet show September's rate jump.

THE RATE ENVIRONMENT

7.03%

FREDDIE MAC 30-YR FIXED,
9/24/2026. FIRST TIME OVER 7%
SINCE JANUARY 2025

7.43%

MORTGAGE NEWS DAILY 30-YR,
9/25/2026

7.31%

BANKRATE 30-YR JUMBO, NATIONAL AVERAGE

3.75% to 4.00%

FED FUNDS TARGET AFTER THE 9/16
HIKE, THE FIRST SINCE 2023

Rates have climbed more than a full point since February's low, and the last month did about a third of that on its own. Freddie Mac's survey went from 6.66% in late August to 7.03% this week, and the Fed raised its benchmark on September 16 with most officials signaling another hike this year. For a buyer putting 20% down on a $2,400,000 home, principal and interest on a $1,920,000 loan is about $12,800 a month at 7.03%, roughly $1,330 more than at February's 5.98%.

Highlands buyers kept bidding through the summer, but every sale in this report went into contract before this jump. That's the main reason not to let a project stretch into next year: a refresh that takes two to three weeks keeps you inside today's market, while a heavier renovation that takes nine to fifteen months makes you a bet on where rates go next.

AS-IS VS. REFRESH VS. HEAVIER RENOVATION: WHAT EACH PATH NETS

WHAT A LIGHT REFRESH IS WORTH

About $200,000 more at sale, for about $12,000 to $18,000 of work

$2,100,000 to $2,300,000 as-is against $2,300,000 to $2,500,000 refreshed. After the work and a few weeks of carrying costs, that leaves you about $180,000 to $190,000 ahead

Here are the three paths side by side. Each is priced off the Highlands sales that match it, set conservatively for today's rates.

AS-IS, LIST NOW

$2,100,000 to $2,300,000

Clean it out and list in two to three weeks. Priced under 35 French Creek, 1582 Brandywine and 1571 Forge, the dated Eichlers that sold for $2.30M to $2.35M before rates crossed 7%, with a further discount for the missing heat. A list price around $2,149,000 to $2,195,000 fits how this tier trades.

Pros: No spend, no project risk, lists in October.

Cons: Leaves roughly $200,000 of resale on the table by these ranges.

LIGHT REFRESH (RECOMMENDED)

$2,300,000 to $2,500,000

Paint, quartz counters on the existing cabinets, new vanities in both baths and new lighting. The floors and the rest of the baths stay as they are. No walls moved and no permits. About $12,000 to $18,000 including a 10% cushion, two to three weeks. It's the same kind of cosmetic work that helped 1708 Monticello Road (new paint and carpet) sell for $2,450,000.

Pros: By far the best return per dollar of the three, and the work is done in a few weeks.

Cons: A small spend, a few weeks of carrying costs, and a launch a few weeks after the as-is path. Buyers will still price in the missing heat and the laminate floors.

HEAVIER RENOVATION (CONTEXT ONLY)

$2,500,000 to $2,700,000

Everything at once: kitchen and both baths rebuilt, walls opened up, new floors and new heat, with permits. About $350,000 to $700,000 with design, permits and contingency, nine to fifteen months. Priced well under this year's full remodels ($2.86M to $3.25M), which sold before rates crossed 7%, several finished to a designer level.

- Pros: The highest sale price of the three.
- Cons: Once construction and carrying costs are counted, it lands anywhere from about $29,000 ahead to $356,000 behind selling as-is, and you carry rate and market risk the whole time.

The refresh, line by line

ITEM	ESTIMATED RANGE
Interior paint, walls (paneling decision below)	About $5,000
Quartz counters on the existing cabinets, sink and faucet	$4,000 to $7,000
New vanities in both baths	$1,000 to $3,000
Light fixtures, hardware, switch and outlet covers	About $1,000
Subtotal	$11,000 to $16,000
With a 10% cushion	$12,000 to $18,000
Optional, not in the total: New LVP flooring over the laminate, about 1,650 sq ft (current floors are serviceable)	$10,000 to $15,000

One judgment call inside that budget: the original mahogany paneling. Eichler buyers pay for original wood in good shape, and 1708 Monticello Road marketed its original paneling as a feature. Clean and oil the paneling in the hall and primary suite, and paint only the two bedrooms that are already painted. That keeps the paint around $5,000. The ranges are working estimates for this house, not bids, so the first step is getting a painter and a countertop installer through it. The baths only need new vanities; the tile and tubs can stay.

Why the heavier renovation doesn't pencil. It adds about $400,000 at sale ($2,500,000 to $2,700,000 against $2,100,000 to $2,300,000 as-is), but the work runs $350,000 to $700,000, plus $21,000 to $56,000 of taxes, insurance and utilities over nine to fifteen months. That leaves you somewhere between about $29,000 ahead and $356,000 behind selling as-is. The refresh comes out ahead of it at every point in both ranges.

Professional opinion of value, not a formal appraisal.

PRICING STRATEGY (AFTER THE REFRESH)

EXPECTED SALES PRICE, REFRESHED

$2,300,000 to $2,500,000

Midpoint $2,400,000, about $1,455 per square foot

That's where a refreshed version of this house should close, not what goes on the sign. In this market those are two different numbers.

How the expected sales price was built. The refresh gives you new counters, new vanities, fresh paint and new lighting, not a new kitchen or new baths, so the house will show like the best-kept dated homes rather than the updated tier. This range is in line with those sales: 1708 Monticello Road (new paint, carpet and dual-pane windows) at $2,450,000 and 1703 Lexington Avenue (a well-kept trustee sale) at $2,500,000. It sits well under the updated tier ($2,620,000 to $2,930,000), whose sales all went into contract before rates crossed 7%.

Three ways to price into that expected sale:

AGGRESSIVE LIST STRATEGY

$2,149,000 to $2,195,000

Lists deliberately under value to start a competition. At the 110.1% of list that Highlands homes priced to sell got this year, this range lands on the expected sale. Two Highlands sales this year did exactly this and got bid well past their list: 1712 Lexington ($2,300,000 list, $2,620,000 sale) and 1936 Ticonderoga ($2,249,000 list, $2,620,000 sale).

Pros: Draws the widest buyer pool, the best odds of multiple offers, usually the fastest sale.

Cons: If it doesn't draw competition, the sale can land near the list price, which reads publicly as underperforming.

RECOMMENDED

$2,249,000 to $2,295,000

This is where I'd list. It sits just under the expected range, so buyers still see room to compete, without giving the house away if only one strong buyer shows up.

Pros: Balances speed and upside, and matches what most of this market is doing.

Cons: Less dramatic than the aggressive price, so somewhat lower odds of a bidding war.

STRETCH

$2,395,000 to $2,450,000

Tests the top of the range from day one.

Pros: Keeps upside if a premium buyer appears without a bidding war.

Cons: This is where the three under-ask sales lived: longer on market, a weaker hand in negotiation, and usually a lower result than a sharper price would have produced.

Professional opinion of value, not a formal appraisal.

SPECIAL CONSIDERATIONS

No working heat is the one item that can affect a buyer's loan. FHA and VA loans require a permanent heat source, and conventional appraisers have to comment on heating and can make their value subject to repair. Most Highlands buyers use conventional, jumbo or cash, so it narrows the pool rather than blocking the sale, and the ranges in this report assume buyers price it in. If you'd rather solve it before listing, three to four mini-split zones run about $12,000 to $25,000 with the permit. Leave the radiant system in place and disclose it as not working; some Eichler buyers will want to restore it themselves.

The studio needs its paperwork. Pull the finalized permit and any plans before listing. A permitted, finished room gets real credit from buyers as an office or art studio, and an unpermitted one gets very little. None of the comps isolates what a studio like this adds, so it isn't priced as a separate line here, but it belongs at the top of the marketing.

Your lot is big, but Highlands prices don't show a lot premium. The largest-lot sales in this report sold in line with their condition tier, not above it: 1907 Ticonderoga (12,703 sq ft) and 2272 Bunker Hill (11,960 sq ft) landed among the other remodels, and 35 French Creek's 10,689 sq ft lot didn't lift it above the dated homes. Market the lot for what it allows (gardens, room to expand, a future ADU subject to county rules) rather than counting on it to add a price premium.

The sewer lateral is a real plus. Have the permit or invoice for the replacement in the disclosure package. Buyers of 1950s homes ask, and a done lateral takes one common repair off their list.

Order pre-listing inspections. A home inspection, a pest report and a roof inspection let buyers bid on facts instead of guesses. With a house that's been vacant for a while, that matters more than usual.

STAYING IN TOUCH

Let's walk the house this week with a painter and a countertop installer and put real bids against the ranges above. If they come in where these estimates say, the refresh is the clear call. And with only one Highlands home on the market right now, the timing works in your favor whichever way you go.

GRAEHAM WATTS

REALTOR. Powered by The Boyenga Team at Compass.

DRE #01466876 | 650-308-4727 | grahamwatts.com

Prepared regarding 2015 Ticonderoga Dr, San Mateo, CA 94402. Comparable sales: the 31 single-family sales in MLSListings Area 433 (The Highlands / Ticonderoga) that closed 10/07/2025 to 09/10/2026, each read from its individual MLS record. Current competition from active, contingent and pending MLS listings as of the report date. Trend data from MLSListings Matrix Stats, Data tab, Zip Code 94402, Single Family Home, Jan 2023 to Aug 2026. Property facts from county records via Realist. Rates from Freddie Mac PMMS, Mortgage News Daily and Bankrate. Renovation figures are working estimates for planning, not contractor bids.

Professional opinion of value, not a formal appraisal.